

Education Reform Commission Meetings Update

The ERC Funding Formula Committee meeting originally scheduled for today (Oct. 2) was unexpectedly cancelled with no explanation. [By the way, thanks to all of the members who answered Wednesday's Call to Action asking the Commission to SLOW DOWN its timetable and begin to accept input from educators and citizens in order to ensure they GET IT RIGHT.

Your efforts do make a difference.]

The ERC has issued a new schedule which now has it holding meetings well into December, later than it originally thought it would have to meet. The new schedule is listed below. As always, GAE will have a presence at these meetings in order to keep you informed of the critical proceedings that will have a profound impact on your profession and livelihoods. Continue to send us your concerns and comments @ getinvolved@gae.org.
