

LGBTQ+ COMMUNITY AND THE COVID-19 CRISIS

The COVID-19 epidemic has undoubtedly caused uncertainty in every aspect of our lives. As COVID-19 continues to impact our society throughout this world, hundreds of thousands of people have contracted the virus, and every community has been affected. The LGBTQ community in the U.S. — along with many communities around the globe — faces unique challenges. The extent of COVID-19’s economic impact on LGBTQ people as well as the ways in which LGBTQ people are at increased risk of infection and health complications are mostly unknown.

The following are resources to support the LGBTQ community during this time of crisis.
