I am employed and still on the job and I need paid time from work*

*This program is for businesses of 500 or fewer; healthcare and emergency workers may not be covered; businesses of 50 or fewer may opt not to offer leave for school closures.

I am working less because of COVID

Undocumented workers are not covered by these benefits.

I don’t have a job/ I don’t have any hours

I am sick from COVID or under public health order to stay home

I need to care for someone else in my household

I need to care for my child who is out of school/childcare

I am still unable to work after using federally available time

I am employed and still on the job and I need paid time from work*

Including self-employed, gig workers, and independent contractors

You may be able to use Unemployment Insurance to make up some or all of the difference

Your employer may be able to enter into a work-sharing agreement with your state unemployment office

Some states offer regular unemployment benefits if you lose part of your hours

For states that don’t you can receive Pandemic Unemployment Assistance

In both cases, you are eligible for an additional $600/week under Pandemic Unemployment Compensation until the week ending July 26, 2020

I am a regular employee

Apply for regular state unemployment benefits

I’ve run out of regular and extended benefits

You will automatically transition to Pandemic Emergency Unemployment Compensation

In both cases, you are eligible for an additional $600/week under Pandemic Unemployment Compensation until the week ending July 26, 2020

If you do not qualify for regular state unemployment benefits, you may be able to get Pandemic Unemployment Assistance

In both cases, you are eligible for an additional $600/week under Pandemic Unemployment Compensation until the week ending July 26, 2020

13 more weeks can be covered

You can receive your state’s unemployment benefits; they will be paid for by the federal government

Your benefit will be at least 1/2 of your state’s regular minimum payment. May be higher

Pandemic Unemployment Assistance is up to 39 weeks of leave

* This program is for businesses of 500 or fewer; healthcare and emergency workers may not be covered; businesses of 50 or fewer may opt not to offer leave for school closures.

 Undocumented workers are not covered by these benefits.